Final Project: Mary Hoag
Deliverable #1

On The Grid is a planning and journaling app for people who with a million little to-do lists or who are into tracking goals or habits and need an online platform. In addition to, or in place of, a paper planner, On The Grid will help the user stay organized, allowing them to focus on living life to the fullest.

Screenshots of wireframe:
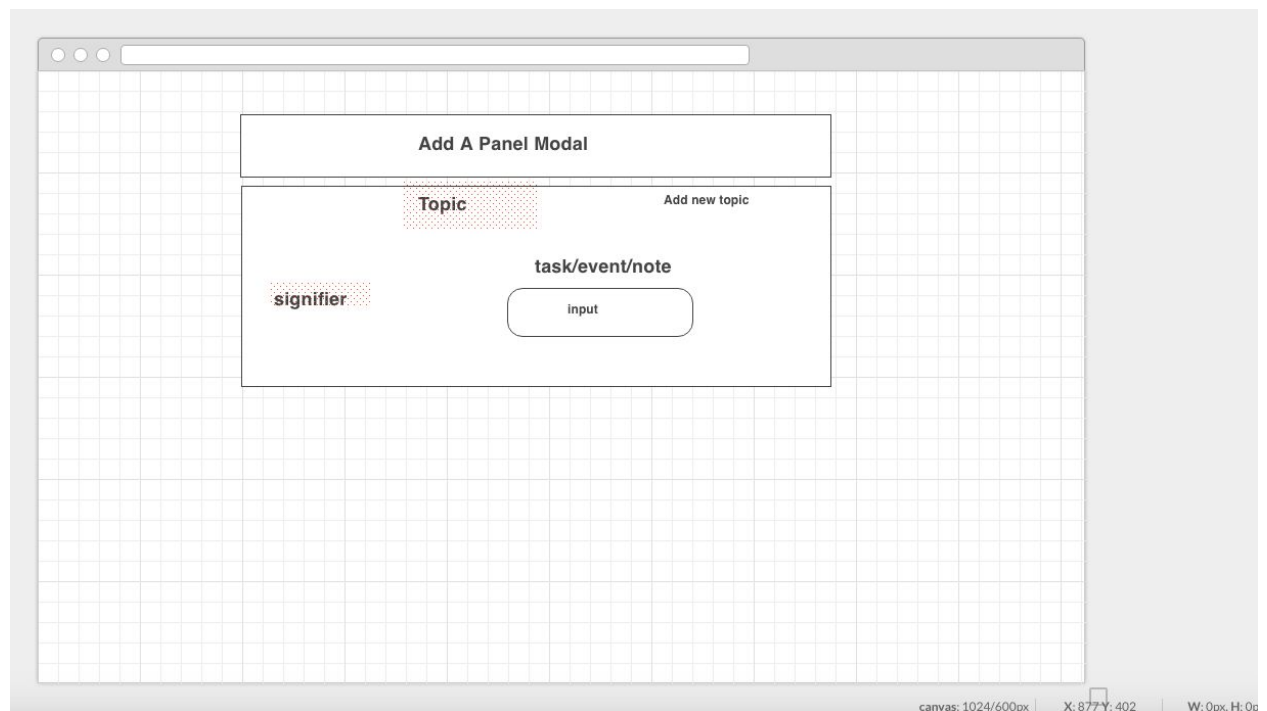

Login page:

Main page:

Modal:

Goal due dates: Now that a better understanding of my file structure, I hope to finish the google auth this weekend. My goal is to get the back end adding content to the database by Wednesday. Then by Saturday have it making calls and putting the content on the page. This leaves me the following week to add styling, refine and comment the code and make the page really beautiful and functional and readily customizable.

Trello screenshot.